Mini Project:

- Title: Online Parking Reservation
- Role: Team Member- handling database and UML diagrams.

Abstract – With the increasing number of vehicles finding a parking space in most metropolitan areas, especially during the rush hours, is difficult for drivers. The idea behind our android application is to help the user analyses area's where parking is available and number of slots free in that area. Additionally, four hours prior to his expected arrival, the user can pre-book a slot in the area he desires if it is available this will help the user to search the parking slot through the android application.
